

“It won’t happen to me.” – A former small business owner.
 Five words. Five seemingly innocuous words. That’s all it takes to ruin a business.

Unfortunately, most small business owners think a cyber-attack or breach can’t happen to them. Are you one of them?

According to 2018 Verizon Data Breach Investigation Report, small businesses represented 61% of cyber-attack targets in 2017. The House Small Business Committee also estimates that 50% of small businesses will fail within 6 months of being breached.
